What A Rush!

By Jeff S

This book starts off with our heroine from the first two books, Jade, reeling from the revelation at the end of the second book. While fleeing from the madman still trying to torment her, she gets another note from him: "You took something from me, now I'm going to take something from you". Instantly in panic mode, she reveals her secret to her human best friend in order to try to protect her. The tension never really lets up, and as has become Ms. Carrero's style, the last 2 pages reveal a major bomb that yet again sends Jade reeling. For more on that, I guess we'll have to wait for Ms. Carrero to write book 4!

Go ahead and pick up book 1 (Evolution) before reading this one, as this particular series you really have to read in order to understand even half of what is going on. I can tell you from both my own experience and my wife's that once you read Evolution, you'll be hooked on this series!

Ms. Carrero, please write faster! ;)

The Next Step

By Matthew

With a title like that you can expect great treachery to not only the mind, but the heart. It makes you wonder about whom you can really trust and who you can't. This book is the third in the Evolution series and it ends with another cliffhanger. People with advanced brain functions are rumored to exist and lives like the ones in this series could be close to the truth. Read this sci-fi/suspense story of young lovers as they search for the truth to their advanced existence. I eagerly await the fourth. The books are short but sweet.

Good easy read

By JWilde

I loved this installment in the evolution series. The writing is simple, although the author is from Australia so the vernacular is a bit different(something I liked). This was a great read for me during my nursing classes, the story is not complicated it is easy to follow all the characters(there are several). Carrero times the action and lulls in action perfectly. I loved the twist at the end and I can't wait to read the last book.
