THE LITERARY VISION OF GABRIELLE ROY: AN ANALYSIS OF HER WORKS BY PAULA GILBERT LEWIS PDF

From the late 1930s until 1983 Gabrielle Roy published numerous novels and collections of short stories through which she developed and exhibited a literary vision that was not only distinctly Quebecois and Canadian but also international in scope. This study analyzes the disparate themes, images, and preoccupations in Roy's fictional works that constitute the foundation for this unique perception of life. The first of its kind in English, this analysis of Roy's writings promises to be the definitive study of one of French-speaking Canada's most prominent authors.
